Cost

Our current price list applies to open trainings. We will inform you in detail about the state funding possibilities of our trainings. We would be happy to advise you on our trainings and individual in-house solutions (training solutions) and create a personal offer tailored to your company

Training formats

We carry out all our trainings as open trainings or individual customer trainings in the form of live online or presence training. Individual learning as flexible as you are: Choose personally your preferred form of learning from our different types of implementation.

Our live online trainings

Didactic trainings prepared for the online format with our online experts.

In our live online trainings, participants experience interactive and practice-oriented training sessions with classroom feeling. Participants work together in real time on collaboration platforms in digital learning and practice rooms. Learning success, fun and entertainment characterize our trainings.

Presence Trainings

Face-to-face trainings at one of our training locations or as an in-house seminar with experienced trainers.

Our trainings offer new digital learning formats, international standards in combination with the latest didactic and educational concepts. By working with selected experts and market-leading partners, we offer you highly efficient and optimal training formats.

About us

Authorized training partner of the PMI

IN 2020, ALVISSION Training was authorized as the first Full-Service Partner of the World Association for Project Management (PMI) in Germany. As the first and only training partner, ALVISSION offers the original hybrid and agile training and certification formats of the PMI in Germany. With these new training formats, the participants are optimally trained for the major challenges of digital and agile transformation.

What our customers say

"The ALVISSION team has organized a great, interactive and very lively training, which is carried out in an online format with a lot of effort. Didactically strong with interactive board and group work as well as many practical stories complete the training. Recommended!"
